World Book Day

The children really enjoyed world book day last week and had an amazing time finding out about Roald Dahl and all of the fantastic books that he wrote. Moreton library has a wide variety of stories and poems written by Roald Dahl that are free for you to borrow. During the day the children took part in a wide variety of reading related activities, just a fraction of which included a book hunt in the library, reading to the younger children and experiencing a lesson taught by a different teacher. On behalf of all the teachers and children I would like to express our thanks to all of our parents for the amazing costumes! Please continue encouraging your children to read this week (and every week) as the million minute reading challenge does not finish until Friday.

On a different note – can anyone guess what Mrs Blakemoore-Irving dressed up as?

Below is a photograph that gives you a flavour of the day.
